

The 10th International Symposium on Arctic and Alpine Mycology (ISAM10), JAPAN

Cosponsored by ISAM10 Organizing Committee and the Mycological Society of Japan.
In corporation with the Ishikawa Mycological Association, UNU - IAS Operating Unit Ishikawa/Kanazawa, and Mount Hakusan Biosphere Reserve Council

Aug 29-31, 2016

Kanazawa & Mt. Haksuan

Open symposium for participants and citizens Aug 29

Workshops Aug 29

Foray at Mt. Hakusan Aug 30, 31

Sep 1-3, 2016 Sugadaira

Open symposium "Alpine fungi and plants on Mt. Hakusan"

9:20-12:00

at Building S1, Kanazawa University

1. Key note on arcto-alpine mycology. Henning Knudsen (Natural History Museum of Denmark)
2. Global warming and arcto-alpine fungi - patterns of spatial heterogeneity of clavarioid mycobiota species richness at the forest-tundra ecotone. Anton Shiryaev (Russian Academy of Science)
3. Profile of Mt. Hakusan . Ei Kawahara (Ishikawa mushroom association, Japan)
4. Phylogeography of Japanese alpine plants: biogeographic importance of alpine region of central Honshu in Japan. Noriyuki Fujii (Kumamoto University, Japan)
5. Circumpolar fungi on Mt. Hakusan. Taiga Kasuya (Chiba Institute of Science, Japan)

Workshops 13:00-16:30

President: Tamotsu Hoshino (National Institute of Advanced Industrial Science and Technology)
Local organizer at Kanazawa & Mt. Hakusan: Nobuko Tuno (Kanazawa University)
Local organizer at Sugadaira: Yosuke Degawa (Tsukuba University)
Secretary: Taiga Kasuya, Yuka Yajima, Ikuo Nose, Ei Kawahara